HISTORIC CALIBER

Developed early in World War II, the M1 Carbine quickly proved its capability as an outstanding, highly reliable light-weight combat weapon. The famous carbine served U.S. soldiers and Marines in battle from France's Normandy beachhead to the sands of Iwo Jima and Okinawa in the Pacific. Now the historic M1 .30 Carbine caliber is featured in AMT's new, sleek AUTOMAG III. This pistol continues the AUTOMAG tradition of innovative design and attractive styling. It is the first successful production semi-automatic handgun manufactured in this caliber.
